Historic City Hall Building Ownership Officially Transfers to Henry Point Development

It's been a long time coming, but both Henry Point Development and the City of Milwaukie have signed off on the closing documents, making Henry Point Development officially the new owner of the historic city hall building at 10722 SE Main St. Over the coming weeks and months, the building will see some increased activity. Crews have begun demolition in the interior of the building in preparation for the remodel. They have also installed a fence around the building as a security measure, however, no changes will be made to the exterior. The façade will remain intact.

For more information about this project, visit engage.milwaukieoregon.gov/city-hall-next-phase, or contact Travis Henry at travis@henrypointdevelopment.com or Joseph Briglio at briglioj@milwaukieoregon.gov.

City Council Special Election

A special election will be held on May 21, 2024 to fill the vacant city council position. For those interested in running, please make note of these important dates:

- Nov. 21, 2023 - last day to establish residency within city limits
- March 12 - last day to file nomination papers
- May 21 - Election Day

Potential candidates must meet with the city recorder before filing the necessary forms and collecting signatures. Contact the city recorder at 503.786.7502 or ocr@milwaukieoregon.gov. For more election information, visit www.milwaukieoregon.gov/elections.

Taking a Look at Tax Constraints and Service Levels

Mayor Lisa Batey

I like to use this space to promote exciting things going on in Milwaukie, such as the upcoming construction kick-off for our three new parks, but this month I have something more serious on my mind, so my apologies in advance for the somber tone of this article.

In my first few years as a city councilor, the finance director at the time routinely warned us of an impending “fiscal cliff” that within five years, the city would not have the revenue to fund the activities in the budget that residents had come to expect. That cliff is now closer at hand.

Cities and counties across Oregon are hamstrung by our crazy property tax laws, under which tax revenue can only increase by 3% per year. We all know that even before the recent inflationary times, costs of salaries and most goods and services went up faster than 3% per year. The property tax system created in the 1990s under Measures 5 and 50 really set communities up for failure and created very inequitable results, even between two houses on the same block. In 2016, the League of Oregon Cities produced a thorough assessment of the inequities of the system, which can be read at <https://bit.ly/48oBkas>.

These tax constraints have not limited the increase in your tax bill to 3% per year because they lead to proliferation of “special districts” to operate library districts or swimming pools or other amenities a community wants. And to operating levies to fund shortfalls, like the ones passed last year for the Clackamas Fire District and the North Clackamas School District, and the one in Gresham for police and fire services that did not get voter approval. In the 22 years I have owned my home, the number of line items on my property tax bill has grown from 15 to 26. In the same period, the City of Milwaukie property tax has grown by $250, but has shrunk significantly as a portion of my overall bill. In 2002, Milwaukie property tax was 38% of my overall tax bill – now it is under 19%. The bond voters passed for the Ledding Library is another 1.5% of the total bill.

In Milwaukie, we’ve been very fortunate to have a city manager and team that have been successful at finding ways to streamline, as well as capitalize on grant opportunities to fund projects, such that the 5-year fiscal cliff has been staved off for several years. But, we are reaching a point where basic city services may be impacted by cuts in the upcoming budget cycle.

City council has also been focused on how to best provide for the development and upkeep of our parks system, which may mean leaving the North Clackamas Parks & Recreation District (NCPRD) and taking over our own parks. That will necessitate hiring additional staff. It has been apparent for a decade or more that the NCPRD tax rate of $0.54 per thousand of assessed value is inadequate to build and maintain the parks that Milwaukians want and deserve. Not only has the County Commission put a halt to finishing Milwaukie Bay Park, but the things residents routinely ask for – skateparks, splash pads, dog parks, pickleball courts – will not be possible at the current tax rate, which is the lowest in the state for a parks and recreation district.

No one likes to pay more taxes. But in the coming months, I do think we need a community dialogue about whether shortened library hours, reduced police staffing, longer wait times for building and other permits, and removal (rather than replacement) of damaged park equipment are acceptable to residents or whether we should consider looking for additional revenue to support the level of service residents have come to expect.

Shane Abma Appointed Interim City Councilor

Last month, city council appointed Shane Abma to the position recently vacated by Desi Nicodemus. He was sworn in by Judge Kimberly Graves immediately following the appointment. Abma previously served on city council from 2017-2019, and currently works as a senior attorney for Metro Regional Government.

It is anticipated that Abma will serve in this interim role until June 18, 2024 when the results of the special election are likely to be certified. For more information, contact the city recorder’s office at 503.786.7502 or ocr@milwaukieoregon.gov, or visit www.milwaukieoregon.gov/citycouncil.

The second annual application and interview process for the city's official boards and committees began last month. This is a chance to make a change in the community and directly participate in the city's work! From the Arts Committee to the Tree Board, there are many interest areas, projects and programs to get involved with through these volunteer boards and committees. Applications are accepted until April 1. Interviews are held in April and May, and appointments to open positions are made by City Council this June.

To apply, complete the online form at onboard.milwaukieoregon.gov. For questions or more information, email the city recorder's office at ocr@milwaukieoregon.gov.

Emergency Kits on a Budget

Emergency preparedness can be a scary topic, and many people would rather not think about what they will do in an emergency. Still, building an emergency kit is one of the best ways to keep a household safe after a natural disaster. Planning as a family can even be a fun, shared activity that helps children to feel less worried about emergencies. There are many things households can do to prepare an emergency kit on a budget. The amount budgeted, ten dollars per week, may be high for some families. If a household cannot afford that kind of investment, however, it is worthwhile to spread the cost out over a few weeks to get ready.

When preparing an emergency kit, the first thing to consider is time. After a major disaster, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommends having enough supplies to last for two weeks without outside assistance or going to the grocery store. In a major disaster, it could take that long for help to arrive.

After time, the next consideration should be water. Generally, one gallon of water per person per day is a good goal. This means that families will want to have 14 gallons of water per person to last two weeks. While a gallon a day may sound like a lot, consider that that gallon is for cooking, drinking and sanitation. Pre-packaged bottled water is the safest choice. Gallons of water can be purchased for under two dollars at most local grocery stores. For anyone wishing to store tap water, information about how to sanitize it for long-term storage can be found at milwaukieoregon.gov/emergencyprep. As with all preparation, if there is not enough money or space in a home for 14 gallons of water per person, something is better than nothing. Even a few days of water will help to keep a family hydrated until more help can be organized.

You're Invited!

Celebrate the start of construction for Balfour, Bowman-Brae and Scott Parks!

MARCH 9 • 10 AM
BALFOUR PARK
3039 SE BALFOUR ST

Come enjoy brief remarks, a kick-off ceremony, yard games & refreshments! Please note, parking near Balfour Park is limited. Carpooling, bicycling or walking to the event is encouraged.

Milwaukie Police Department Updates

In January, a joint effort by 15 traffic officers from various jurisdictions, including the Milwaukie Police Department (MPD), was conducted in Milwaukie, resulting in 160 traffic stops, 208 citations issued, 84 warnings and three arrests.

On Jan. 28, officers responded to a collision in Milwaukie, where a 67-year-old woman was hit by a vehicle suffering critical, but non-life-threatening injuries. The driver was arrested for DUI, Assault II and Vehicular Assault of a Pedestrian.

On Jan. 24, officers arrested a trespasser with drone assistance near SE Linwood Avenue. During the incident, a speeding Chevrolet Camaro struck an MPD patrol vehicle. The driver was arrested for DUI, Reckless Driving and Recklessly Endangering. The Clackamas County Sheriff's Office managed the crash investigation.

Behavioral Health Specialist Glen Suchanek, along with partnerships with LoveOne and Central City Concern, are making strides in addressing unhoused and transitional community members with Tuesday outreach sessions equipping officers with a ready resource.

Strides were made in staffing as officers Kwasean Akom and Tim Cleary completed training after a 13-month process, including interviews, background checks, academy training and a Field Training and Evaluation program, enabling them to work independently. The MPD is continuing to train and add police officers each month, including a dedicated traffic officer. Have a safe March!

Planning Commission Hearing for Neighborhood Hubs on March 12

Phase 2 of the Neighborhood Hubs project is nearly complete! The project team has analyzed the feedback and survey responses, and drafted the proposed code language for the Neighborhood Hub areas. The goal for these code amendments is to support and encourage hubs-type development and businesses in the identified areas.

Key proposed amendments:

- Rezone properties in the Limited Commercial zone (C-L) to Neighborhood Mixed Use (NMU) and eliminate the Limited Commercial zone.
- Create a new Small-Scale Mixed-Use zone (SMU)
- Rezone properties in the Neighborhood Commercial zone (C-N) to Small-Scale Mixed Use and eliminate the Neighborhood Commercial zone.
- Rezone a portion of the Milwaukie Floral site at 3306 SE Lake Rd. from Residential-Moderate Density to the new Small-Scale Mixed Use zone
- Expand the 42nd Avenue NMU zone by rezoning the Chapel Theatre site at 4107-4117 SE Harrison St. from Residential-High Density to Neighborhood Mixed Use

The Planning Commission public hearing about the proposed amendments is Tuesday, March 12, and the proposed code language can be reviewed at www.milwaukieoregon.gov/planning/za-2024-001. For more information about the public hearing, visit www.milwaukieoregon.gov/bc-pc/planning-commission-115.

Everyone is encouraged to participate in the hearings, and Spanish translation services are available. To learn more about the Neighborhood Hubs project, visit engage.milwaukieoregon.gov/hubs-phase2 or contact Adam Heroux, associate planner, at 503.786.7658 or heroux@milwaukieoregon.gov.

Milwaukie's Mills

Standard Flour Mill

From Bob's Red Mill to Milwaukie Lumber, the remnants of Milwaukie's industrial history are still present today even though mills no longer line Milwaukie Bay. Like many cities built alongside major rivers, those in the Willamette Valley harnessed the flow of water to power mills and increase production. Here, hydropower was used to grind locally-grown wheat into flour for nationwide distribution. The first Milwaukie grain mill opened in 1848, an adjunct to the already-established sawmill, and, by 1855, multiple mills were established within city limits.

Milwaukie has been home to many saw and grist mills over the decades, but few, if any, would loom as large as Standard Flour. Built in 1853, the Standard Flour Mill became a stable resource for local settlers and other nearby markets. When the mill first opened, it was able to produce 10 barrels of flour per day, an output which would eventually be multiplied tenfold, and used to supply booming mining towns in California and southern Oregon, as well as other growing cities, such as Seattle and Vancouver, B.C. After almost half a century, the Standard Mill collapsed in 1901. For more information, visit milwaukiemuseum.com.

Community Conversation Series Continues in March

The Ledding Library welcomes Pamela Slaughter on Wednesday, March 20 at 6 p.m. to discuss loneliness and aging. Isolation and loneliness are common experiences for elderly people. This conversation discusses these experiences, as well as ideas for connection.

Conversation leader Pamela Slaughter is a lifelong Oregonian and a retired adult protective service investigator for Multnomah County. She is the founder and executive director of People of Color Outdoors, a nonprofit designed to help facilitate the reconnection of Black, Indigenous and People of Color to the outdoors. This is a facilitated conversation from the Oregon Humanities Conversation Project.

Book Clubs

The library hosts three book clubs: Daylight Book Group, Sci-Fi & Fantasy Book Club and The Ledding Book Club. For questions and more information, email ledding@milwaukieoregon.gov.

ADULT PROGRAMS

at the Ledding Library

Bilingual Poetry Reading

Sunday • March 3, 3 PM

In partnership with the Iraqi Society of Oregon and Al-Mutanabbi Street Starts Here!, the Milwaukie Poetry Committee is hosting a bilingual poetry reading in Arabic and English.

March Poetry Reading: Annie Lighthart

Wednesday • March 13, 6 PM

The Milwaukie Poetry Series continues with a reading by Annie Lighthart. This event is also livestreamed on the library's YouTube channel. To register for the livestream, contact Tom Hogan at tomhogan2@comcast.net.

Tales of the Hedgerow with Will Hornyak

Sunday • March 17, 4 PM

For more than a century, Irish language, history and traditions were kept alive by men and women known as hedgerow teachers. Storyteller Will Hornyak brings to life the spirit of a late-night hedgerow gathering with history, stories, songs, poems and toasts in honor of those who instructed and inspired the minds and hearts of their people during those times. Sponsored by the Friends of the Ledding Library.

HISTORIC MILWAUKIE

The Historic Milwaukie neighborhood encourages neighbors to participate in the next beautification event, in connection with Earth Day, on Saturday, April 20 from 10 a.m. to noon in the downtown area. The event will feature opportunities for all ages to help with planting and mulching, as well as general cleanup, along Main Street and 21st Avenue. Volunteers will meet in the parking lot across from the historic city hall building (10722 SE Main St.) just before 10 a.m. Supplies for the clean-up activities and planting are provided, but volunteers are encouraged to bring their own gloves and trowels, if available.

The neighborhood's beautification efforts continue to expand each year. One volunteer is creating pollinator pathways downtown for local bees and butterflies, which are critical to flowers and other plant life. For more information about bees, visit foodhero.org/bees. It's geared to fourth graders, but everyone can learn from it!

The neighborhood will host a table with more information about pollinator pathways in the sign-in area during the Earth Day event, along with an educational decomposing game that was a hit last year. And, of course, a selection of snacks!

Please attend monthly meetings, either in-person at city hall (10501 SE Main St.) or online, to learn about changes in downtown and community activities. Parking is available in the lot across the street.

NEXT MEETING MON, MAR 11 • 6:30 PM

LAKE ROAD

The Lake Road Neighborhood District Association did not have a meeting in February, and the next meeting is March 13 at Milwaukie Floral. All neighbors are encouraged to attend.

There are some exciting things going on in the neighborhood. First, the new Bowman-Brae Park will break ground soon! When it has its grand opening in the fall, there will be a walking path, benches, playground, beautiful plants and more. Second, the New Season's store in the Milwaukie Marketplace will open soon. It will be nice to have a new grocery store at the marketplace. Last, the historic city hall building has had the ownership transferred and construction has started. Once it is completed, it will be used for retail and office space.

NEXT MEETING WED, MAR 13 • 6:30 PM

LOCATION: MILWAUKIEOREGON.GOV

CHAIR: Debby Patten • lakeroadndachair@gmail.com

ISLAND STATION

As the vibrant hues of spring begin to paint the island station neighborhood, the NDA encourages neighbors to revel in the beauty while staying mindful of potential hazards. Before starting yard work, be sure to check overhead for tree branches that may pose a risk.

Save the date for the third Saturday of each month to join volunteers at 9 a.m. at the entrance to Elk Rock Island (SE 19th Avenue and Sparrow Street) to help remove invasive plants, such as English ivy, Himalayan blackberry and more. Please come equipped with hand tools, such as clippers and trowels, and dress appropriately with gloves, long sleeves, long pants, sturdy shoes and weather-appropriate gear. If the river is high, the team will shift its focus to Spring Park.

The Island Station NDA meets every third Wednesday at Two Sisters Play Café. Bring questions, insights and updates about neighborhood activities, or share stories and foster a sense of community. For those who can't attend in-person, connect by phone or Zoom. Find the link on the city website or contact 503.318.5065 for further assistance.

Let's embrace the spirit of community this spring, fostering growth, connection and shared responsibility.

NEXT MEETING WED, MAR 20 • 6:30 PM

LOCATION: MILWAUKIEOREGON.GOV

CHAIR: Charles Bird • charlesbird@juno.com

LINWOOD

Is it spring yet? Hopefully, folks are enjoying the budding tree and flower blossoms. The neighborhood will host another Adopt-A-Road clean-up to help Linwood Avenue keep looking great and reduce the trash getting into waterways. Volunteers will meet on April 6 at 10 a.m. at Linwood Elementary School for hot drinks, treats, vests and supplies before getting started.

The Sojourner Elementary School Foundation auction is on Saturday, April 27 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at the Milwaukie Community Center. Sponsors and donors are needed. For more information, contact auction@sojournerschoolcommunity.com.

Monthly neighborhood meetings are the second Thursday of each month at St. Paul's Methodist Church. Currently, the Linwood neighborhood is seeking volunteers to serve as chair and other leadership positions. Elections are in May—please consider helping.

NEXT MEETING THU, MAR 14 • 7 PM

LOCATION: MILWAUKIEOREGON.GOV

CHAIR: Elizabeth Start • linwoodnda@gmail.com

ARDENWALD-JOHNSON CREEK

Attend the parks projects construction kick-off event on Saturday, March 9 from 10 to 11:30 a.m. at Balfour Park (3039 SE Balfour St.)! Balfour Park has been years in the making and this neighborhood has spent many hours fundraising and contributing to the design, so this is a very exciting time!

At this month's meeting on March 25, project staff will provide an update about the Hillside development project. This is a huge undertaking in the neighborhood—please come to the meeting to stay informed.

On Tuesday, March 5, city council is taking up the issue of safety signage for the 29th Avenue Greenway that runs through Ardenwald-Johnson Creek. Ensuring this greenway remains safe is an extremely important issue for the neighborhood. The more people who report concerns or issues at this hearing, the better! Testimony for the city council meeting can be submitted by emailing the city recorder at ocr@milwaukieoregon.gov.

LEWELLING

Spring is threatening to brighten the days soon and that means it is time for the annual spring Adopt-A-Road clean-up event for the Lewelling NDA. The clean-up this year is on April 27 at 10 a.m. Volunteers will meet at Ball-Michel Park. Gloves, grabbers and buckets are provided, as well as doughnuts and coffee! This event is always a fun time and a great way to share some pride in the neighborhood.

NEXT MEETING WED, MAR 13 • 6:30 PM

LOCATION: MILWAUKIEOREGON.GOV

CHAIR: Camden McKone • lewellingndachair@gmail.com

OSU Extension Classes

All classes are taught by OSU Extension Service Master Gardener volunteers.

Master Gardeners are volunteer educators, neighbors and on-the-ground researchers who serve their community with solid training in science-based, sustainable gardening.

Gardening for Wildlife (with Leah)

Sunday • March 10, 2 PM

The presence of wildlife creates a thrilling element of life and color in gardens. The focus of this class is on creating an inviting and healthy environment for all manner of wildlife—birds, pollinators, reptiles, beneficial insects and bats.

Seed Saving (with Cindy)

Sunday • March 17, 2 PM

Saving seeds is an easy and fun skill to learn. This class teaches which types of seeds are best for saving, when and how to harvest, and the process to successfully store seeds.

Spring & Summer Container Gardening (with Laura)

Sunday • March 31, 2 PM

This class covers all the basics to getting started with a successful container garden.

All classes are free. For more information, visit www.milwaukieoregon.gov/library or call 503.786.7580.
